

Confidentiality – Informed Consent

Anything that is discussed will be kept confidential unless we have your written consent to release the information to a third party.

Limits to Confidentiality

Under certain circumstances I have a duty to disclose information to the appropriate agencies:

1. Any information regarding the harm of a child
2. Any information indicating the harm of someone else
3. Any information indicating the intent to self-harm
4. If my records are subpoenaed by a court of law
5. If you, as a client, file a complaint or claims professional liability in a lawsuit.
6. In case conference meetings where the information is pertinent to developing appropriate interventions.

By signing below, I acknowledge that under certain conditions my confidential information must be disclosed.

Client Signature

Date

Case Manager Signature

Date

Staff Signature
Date